Three Killed and Many Hurt—Contractor Killed in Mississippi—Hunter Wins Certificate.

AVALON SLIGHTLY DAMAGED

A RACE WAR.

New Orleans, Oct. 20—As the result of a bloody encounter between a band of negroes led by a white man, and a constable's posse three negroes have been killed and eighty wounded, in the St. Parker Parish. None of the posse were hurt. The surviving negroes and their white leader, Pat Mice, are in the swamps and are being searched for. Further trouble is feared.

CONTRACTOR KILLED.

Friars Point, Miss., Oct. 20—News has just reached this place of a fatal duel at the levee camp of George H. Heck, a contractor, over a negro crap game.

The negroes became entangled in a row among themselves and Mr. Heck went to quiet the disturbance and while acting as peacemaker had some words with a negro named Will McCoy. Mr. Heck struck him with a shotgun. As he did so, a brother of the McCoy negro, named Fleak McCoy, drew his gun and shot Mr. Heck twice. Before falling, Heck turned and emptied the contents of his shotgun into the abdomen of his assailant. The negro was at once placed under arrest and is now in the county jail.

Mr. Heck died a few minutes after the shooting.

Mr. Heck has been in the contracting business a number of years and owns a home in Helena. He was originally from Indiana, and his body will be shipped to Cannelton, that state, for interment. He was 50 years of age, and regarded by all who knew him as one of the cleverest men in the country.

AVALON STRIKES A SNAG.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 20—A tie barge aground just above the city caused the Cincinnati and Memphis packet, Avalon, to shove a big hole in her starboard side, doing much damage.

After temporary repairs the steamer continued her journey.

President Roosevelt Calls One for Nov. 9th.

Majority of Commissioners Sign Alaskan Treaty—Canadian Ministers Refuse.

A HITCH AT YOKOHAMA

SPECIAL SESSION CALLED.

Washington, Oct. 20—President Roosevelt issued a call today for an extra session November 9 to consider a commercial convention between the United States and China.

A MAJORITY SIGNED.

London, Oct. 20—A draft of the decision reached by the Alaskan boundary commissioners was signed by the majority of the commissioners. Messrs. Aylesworth and Jette refused to sign.

The decision grants all the American contention, with the exception of one relating to the Portland canal. The signatories were Lord Chief Justice Alverstone and Senators Lodge and Turner and Secretary Root, the American commissioners. They constituted a majority, and insured finality. Messrs. Aylesworth and Jette carried out their outspoken disapproval of the decision by refusing to sign that portion of the decision giving the Portland canal to Canada, and expressed their attitude by walking out of the cabinet room in the foreign office before the signing of the historic document.

HITCH IN NEGOTIATIONS.

Yokohama, Oct. 20—The negotiations between Russia and Japan have come to another standstill. It is thought doubtful that the Marquis Ito's view of the military occupation of Manchuria is endorsed by the whole country, but it is believed that Ito is strong enough to carry his point, owing to the paramount stand taken for the integrity of Korea and the open door in Manchuria for all nations.

Warrants Issued After a Murder Occurs.

Proprietors of the Stag Charged with Suffering Gaming.

As a result of the murder of Willis Nutty over the Stag saloon Sunday night, the proprietors of the saloon, Messrs. Bob Wathen and John Cashion, have been arrested for keeping bar open on the Sabbath and also for suffering gaming to be carried on in their place of business.

The killing took place in a room on the third floor where a crap table was found and in the course of the examination of witnesses, it was admitted that they had been gaming. As Nutty the dead man, and Al Phelps are the only ones against whom the officers have positive proof, no warrants for gaming other than the one against Phelps has been issued yet.

Both Cashion and Wathen were arrested yesterday afternoon and released on bond, with Phelps who was arrested shortly afterwards for gaming.

The examining trial will come up tomorrow morning before Police Judge D. L. Sanders. No warrant was issued against any one for setting up a game, as no positive evidence could be secured against any one.

HUNTER GETS NOMINATION.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 20—Secretary Hill this afternoon certified that Hon. Godfrey Hunter's name shall go under the Republican device as nominee for congress in the 11th district, and the certificate of nomination was issued.

Mr. Gus Reitz went to Louisville today at noon.

It Would Come Out.

Is This the Kind of Administration to Support in November?

SCARCITY OF WORK

Railroads Must Stop Construction Work Soon.

The Scarcity of Labor Results in Much Expense and Inconvenience.

DOUBLE TRACKING DELAYED

Although it has been more or less a serious proposition from the outset of the double-tracking between Memphis and Fulton, Ky., the Illinois Central has found the scarcity of labor and the consequent exorbitant price for same an obstacle against which it does not propose to strain itself to overcome at this time. Hence the work of double-tracking, along part of the route at least, will be suspended until labor conditions improve or adjust themselves better to the necessities of the progress of the day.

The Illinois Central has been paying for ordinary unskilled labor 35 to 75 per cent more for nine hours a day work than ever before, and that even at this extraordinary price is unable to obtain sufficient labor to make the progress in the work necessary to the demands of the situation. The scarcity of unskilled labor is attributed to the prosperous conditions prevailing over the country, every town and city utilizing all the labor obtainable in the various lines of employment that contribute to growth and improvement.

It is said that the Illinois Central will resume the work of double-tracking next year, or as soon as sufficient labor can be obtained to complete the task now partially finished.

The work of double-tracking will not be suspended along the entire route between Memphis and Fulton, but at such places where the scarcity of labor is most pronounced. This scarcity is felt with especial force at Halls, Tenn., about 100 miles below Paducah.

The situation now confronting the Illinois Central at Halls suggests the main cause for the determination of railroad managers to withhold plans for future construction work. It is a fact that new railroad construction will be discontinued after the completion of contracts now in course of execution, and the cause of it is the scarcity of labor and the consequent exorbitant prices demanded by that which is available.

It is predicted that within five or six months the labor now demanding fancy prices, and hardly obtainable at that, would be looking for employment at greatly reduced compensation.

Thomas C. Elder to M. A. Melton, for $800, property on Fountain avenue near Monroe street.

NO POLICE COURT.

There was no session of the police court today, owing to the death of Attorney Jesse M. Gilbert, city prosecutor, who had been prosecutor in the court for two years past. Court will reconvene tomorrow.

NO CIRCUIT COURT TODAY.

Owing to the fact that the registration is today being held in the circuit court room at the court house, there was no session of circuit court. There is very little to do this week.

SMALL SUIT FILED.

Henry Temple, Jr., has filed a suit in circuit court against Alice and R. M. Collier to secure payment of an alleged note for $50.

ANOTHER LIEN.

F. W. Katterjohn & Sons have filed a mechanics' lien against the Kentucky Iron Co. for $198 for material furnished.

ALLISON BETTER—Charles Allison at the city hospital, is reported better. It will be three weeks tomorrow since he was shot by George Bennett, of the steamer Thomas Nevins.

WILL BUY FORT

It Will Not be Long Until Old Fort Massac is Sold.

To Be Made National Park—D. A. R. Working Hard for It.

The Illinois Central will build a line to Old Fort Massac, near Metropolis, if it becomes a national park.

It is understood from Illinois papers that the first thing to be done this fall is the purchase by the Daughters of the Revolution of the historic place.

This is the only post in Illinois which relates to revolutionary history, and it was at this point that the flag was first unfurled in Illinois. With the securing of innumerable historic spots all over the United States, it is no wonder that Illinois Daughters desire to preserve the old fort, which is associated with the name of George Rogers Clark.

The history of the bill sent through the legislature last winter and the earnest effort made by the women of the state that it might be passed, is well known. It is not so well known however, that some of the state chapters did much in its behalf. The purchase is now but a matter of short time, but the preceding events required patience and persistence on the part of the promoters.

It was decided at the national congress of the Daughters at Washington, that an effort should be made for the preservation of historic spots of revolutionary fame. A bill was drafted at once to be sent to the Illinois legislature, a copy of which was sent to every chapter in the state, directing the Daughters to sign the petition asking the passage of the bill.

Reed Green, the present owner of the old fort, does not think it necessary to build a sea wall to prevent the encroachment of the river. "The Fort," he says, "extends out into the river, that it is situated on a point at a place where the river makes a bend. Underlying the fort is a thick strata of conglomerate which is composed of red gravel, stones and some combination of iron. It is very strong and very solid. In some places there are detached masses of the stone twelve to twenty feet through, while the river bank proper is almost solid. This conglomerate is almost indestructible. I believe that these masses, chunks or conglomerate give a more "fortlike" appearance to the river bank than a retaining wall could give. I have been here for at least twenty years and the amount of washing or destruction to the bank has been very little, hardly perceptible, indeed the water does not often get higher than the portion of the bank."

CLARKSVILLE WILL BE IN IT—Notice has been received by Secretary Farnbaker, at Cairo, that Clarksville will be in the K. I. T. league again next season. It had been reported that some of the towns would drop out.

Secretary Shaw Makes His First Speech in the State.

Tennessee Central Railroad to Be Completed By Tonight—Deaths and Other Happenings.

A SHOOTING AT MAYFIELD

SECRETARY SHAW SPEAKS.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 20.—The Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, of the United States treasury, and the Hon. John W. Yerkes, commissioner of internal revenue, spoke to an enthusiastic audience, crowding the Lexington opera house to almost suffocation yesterday afternoon.

They were introduced by John T. Shelby, the well known lawyer of this city, a lifelong Democrat, who declared that he wanted to see the Republican ticket in this state elected, because it would mean a more honest administration of public affairs. He dwelt at length upon Mr. Shaw's skill as a financier, and said Mr. Yerkes needed no introduction.

He spoke for twenty minutes and surprised Lexington Democrats by the way in which he showed up the administration of Governor Beckham. He is the law partner of Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge, who is supporting the Democratic ticket.

Mr. Shaw spoke first, dwelling solely upon national issues, the currency question consuming most of his time. Mr. Yerkes made a forceful speech, and was greeted by hundreds of his friends, who came from far and near to hear him discuss the problems of the administration.

He brought his arguments nearer home than did Mr. Shaw, applying them to state questions, especially regarding the management of the prisons under Democratic administration, and the collection of the war claim by Captain O. C. Calhoun.

TENNESSEE CONTRACT COMPLETE.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 20.—The last rails will be laid on the Tennessee Central railroad by tonight. Less than three miles remain unfinished, and with plenty of teams hauling all the material necessary on hand, and the most propitious weather conditions existing, it is hardly probable that anything will arise to keep the road from being completed on time. It is reported that a bonus of $100,000 awaits the contractors if they finish by tonight. The bridge across Cumberland river will be completed by the same time, and the entire road, from Harrison to Hopkinsville, will be completed so far as track laying is concerned.

NEW OIL COMPANY.

Dauville, Ky., Oct. 20.—Nath H. Woodcock, one of the best known grocery druggists in this section of the state, and Attorney Morrison Breckinridge, son of Judge R. J. Breckinridge, both of this city, in connection with Banker Ed England, of Barbourville, and Charles Warfield, of San Diego, Cal., have organized the World's Fair Oil company and will secure a charter under the laws of Arizona within a few days.

There are eight directors who reside in Lexington, Barbourville, and Dauville. The company controls over 2,000 acres of fine oil land in Whitley and Wayne and will begin operations at once.

BATTLE WITH PISTOLS.

Irvine, Ky., Oct. 20.—Thomas Jones and George Newton fought a terrific battle with pistols on Rose creek, Lee county, each emptying his revolver into his adversary. Jones is dead as a result and Newton can hardly recover from his wounds. It is thought that this is the result of an old grudge existing between the parties. J. R. Smith and Bob Short, of Red Lick, this county, engaged in an altercation in which Smith was cut on the neck and in the eye. Short was stabbed in the bowels and is not expected to live. Smith came to town and surrendered to the county jailer.

DEATH AT MAYFIELD.

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Elizabeth Tinsley died of heart failure at the residence of Elder A. S. Pettie at the age of 70 years. Mrs. Tinsley was born near Smithfield in Henry county, Kentucky, and married Judge R. L. Tinsley in young womanhood. Judge Tinsley died last January. The remains were taken to Eminence for burial. Mrs. A. S. Pettie, of this city, and Mr. J. E. Tinsley, of the wholesale grocery firm of Grinstead & Tinsley, of Louisville.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Taylorsville, Ky., Oct. 20.—Captain W. S. McFarland, of Bullitt county, has been making speeches in behalf of the Republican party in Spencer county. He had an appointment to speak at Wakefield Saturday night, and while on his way to the place of speaking some one threw a rock at him, barely missing him. The rock was thrown with such force it would have killed him had it hit him. The rock was broken in pieces on a wagon just behind him.

SHOOTING IN GRAVES.

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 20.—Will Starks shot Frank House in a crap game near Stunston's woods Saturday night. Both are colored. The shooting was done with a 44 calibre revolver and three of the bullets took effect, one in the right arm, one in the left arm and one in the back. Starks claims that he was shooting in self-defense as House was advancing upon him with an open knife.

BOY CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 20.—Harrison Lemmons, the ten-year-old son of Calvin W. Lemmons, was crushed to death by a Henderson route freight train. The boy was hanging on a step of a box car and he lost his hold and fell under the wheels. His head and both legs were cut entirely off. The mangled body was taken to the house of his parents on Sweeney street.

SMALL POX APPEARS.

Inez, Ky., Oct. 20.—The town of Williamson, W. Va., is under quarantine from small-pox. Twenty cases broke out in one day, six of them in the school. Thirty cases are also reported at the Hatfield-Collier Coal company's mines, just below Williamson. Several persons from this place are caught in the quarantine.

A FATAL ATTACK.

Owingsville, Ky., Oct. 20.—Capt. Bay, a wealthy farmer of Wolfe county, was fatally burned while in an epileptic fit. He lived alone and not being seen about, the house was searched for him. He had fallen in the fire and the flesh burned off his leg to the knee. The injured leg was amputated in an effort to save his life.

BODY MANGLED.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Oct. 20.—Henry Swalz was killed by a train at Burgin. He was the husband of Madame Fernetto, the fortune teller with the street fair that closed here Saturday night, and was on his way to Knoxville with the company. He was dragged a hundred yards and terribly mangled. His home was in Newport, Ky.

MAN ASSASSINATED.

Lewisburg, Ky., Oct. 20.—Robert Anderson, 20 years old, was found unconscious from a wound at the base of the skull and died before noon. The inquest was held this morning. There is no clew to the murderer.

CHOKED BY FISHBONE.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 20.—A two-year-old daughter of Charles M. Edwards, Jr., of Peedee, got a fish bone in her windpipe, and was choked to death.

DEATH IN CHRISTIAN.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 20.—Lee Hord, a merchant on Durrett avenue, died of rheumatism, aged 36 years. He has been affected for ten years.

Topeka, Kan., October 20.—Rev. Chas. M. Shelton, the author-preacher, is confined to his home with a broken leg. A few days ago he stepped from a street car and fell. He hobbled home, believing that he had suffered a mere sprain. Last night a physician found that a bone in the ankle had been fractured.

A SHORT MEETING

Council Transacts Business in Thirty Minutes.

Street Committee Empowered to Permit Use of Soft Instead of Hard Limestone.

A GAS ORDINANCE PASSED

The council met in regular session last night with Councilmen Brooks and Hannan absent and transacted all the business in thirty minutes.

A resolution of respect over the death of Prosecuting Attorney Jesse M. Gilbert, was read and adopted. The resolution provided for the council attending the funeral in a body and also that the police court room be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days.

Regular bills and accounts against the city amounting to $1,142.09 were allowed.

The matter of releasing the steam heating company from taxation for this year's tax was referred to the city solicitor for a written opinion. The company claims it has been assessed for a franchise valued at $5,000, when it paid only $500 for its franchise.

The ordinance placing the treasurer's salary at $1,800 annum with a $20,000 bond was given final reading.

An ordinance requiring the gas company to place in on off cocks outside the buildings supplied with fittings and gas from their service, to provide against fire was read and given first passage. In many places where consumers had discontinued the use of gas, the gas was cut off in the building and not from the pavement, and in case of fire the pipes would melt and a free flow of gas thrown into the house. To guard against this, the ordinance was drafted and passed. A fine of between $5 and $25 will be assessed in cases of violation of this ordinance.

The ordinance granting the Illinois Central road privilege to lay a spur track across Meyers street in Mechanicsburg was given first reading.

Deeds to Oak Grove lots were filed, recorded and ratified.

A request and dedication of property from property owners desiring to open an alley between Seventh and Eighth, Adams and Clark streets, was referred. Only a portion of those owning property dedicated ground, and all will have to be dedicated before the alley can be opened.

J. R. Turner was granted a coffee house license at Ninth and Boyd streets.

The saloon license at 13th and Clay streets of Jim McNulty, was transferred to Conrad Beyer.

City Engineer L. A. Washington reported the breaking of a wheel on the steam street roller, and was authorized to repair it or get a new one.

The matter of making a change in the street improvement contract was referred to a committee. Contractor Terrell claims he cannot secure hard limestone for his curbs and wants the city to permit him to use soft limestone. Referred to street committee with power to act.

Baker and Eccles, wholesale grocers, were granted permission to build a plank sidewalk on Washington between First and Second street. It will be at the firm's expense.

On motion the council adjourned.

THE DOG INVITED TO SUPPER.

Find Another Dog.

A certain rich man invited a person of high rank to sup with him. Extraordinary preparations were made for the repast, all the delicacies of the season provided. The Dog of the host, having long wished to entertain another Dog, a friend of his, thought this would be a capital time to ask him to come. As soon, therefore, as it fell dusk, the invited Dog came, and was shown by his friend into the kitchen. The preparations there filled him with astonishment, and he resolved that when the time came he would eat enough to last him for a week. He wagged his tail so hard, and licked his chops in anticipation with so much vigor, that he attracted the notice of the head cook, who, seeing a strange Dog about, caught him up by the tail, and, after giving him a swing in the air, sent him flying through the open window into the street. He limped away, and was soon surrounded by a lot of Curs to whom he had boasted of his invitation. They asked him eagerly how he had fared. "Oh, rarely," answered he. "I went on to that extent that I hardly knew which way I got out of the house."

The Federal Judge Gives Instructions to Decide in Favor of the Alleged Widow.

CONTROVERSY SETTLED.

The case of Mrs. Flora Chamberlain Duvall against the Southern railroad for damages for the death of her husband, Reginald O. Duvall, was tried at English, Ind., before Judge Cook yesterday. After five hours it was given to the jury, with instructions from the judge that uphold Mrs. Duvall's claim to be the wife of the deceased.

The result of this trial will probably be to settle a famous controversy. Reginald Duvall, of Paducah, an engineer on the Southern, was killed in an accident at Georgetown, Ind. It was not known that he had been married, but after his death Flora Chamberlain, the daughter of the lady with whom Duvall had boarded, announced that he had been secretly married to Duvall a few days before his death in this city.

Mrs. M. A. Duvall, of Paducah, the mother, denied this claim. Mrs. Flora Chamberlain Duvall was never able to produce sufficient legal proof of the marriage, but she gave a deposition in the Federal Court swearing that it had taken place.

The contest between the mother and the supposed wife has been bitter. Mrs. M. A. Duvall went to Dubois county a short time ago and filed objections to the application of Flora Chamberlain Duvall for papers of administration, therefore making herself liable to the jurisdiction of that court. At the same time she filed suit in court here as administratrix of Reginald Duvall against Flora O. Duvall, her attorney, Mr. Armstrong, and the Southern railroad, to prevent Mrs.

Mr. Philbrick Leaves Today For His New Station at Omaha.

THEIR FINE RECORDS.

Mr. A. H. Egan, the new superintendent of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central to succeed Mr. Philbrick, was in the city last night for the first time since his appointment.

He and Mr. Philbrick have just completed a tour of inspection of the division and Mr. Philbrick expects to leave today for Omaha to take his new position.

Mr. Philbrick is one of the most efficient superintendents on the entire Illinois Central system, and in situations where a knowledge of engineering is required he has shown unusual ability. He is a civil engineer by profession, and has filled every position from roadmaster to superintendent in the practical operation of a railroad. His term of service with the Illinois Central dates back nearly twenty years. The transfer is in the nature of a promotion for Mr. Egan as well as for Mr. Philbrick. While the Chicago office is one of the most important stations on the Illinois Central system, it is considered a mark of esteem to be assigned to the Louisville division, where the rush of business is greater on account of the central location. The Omaha office, on account of the conditions which prevail, will require great tact, and the selection of Mr. Philbrick is a distinct compliment to his ability.

Mr. Egan is also an official of long service on the Illinois Central. He was at one time assistant superintendent of the Louisville division, when General Superintendent Harahan was superintendent.

The Omaha division includes the main line and all of the branches of the Illinois Central from Waterloo, Ia., to Omaha Neb., inclusive. The Louisville division is made up of the line from Louisville to Paducah, including the Hodgenville, Elizabethtown and Owensboro branches, the main line from Evansville to Hopkinsville, and the Uniontown and Dixon branch. The Chicago division extends on the main line of the Illinois Central from Chicago to Champaign, and includes the Chicago terminals, the suburban lines, the Bloomington, and the Bloomington, Pontiac, Tracy and Clinton districts.

THE GOLCONDA TRADE

Is Now Without a Regular Passenger Boat.

Captain Bauer to Enter Towing Trade—The Woolfolk Abandons the Transfer Business.

PAVONIA FROM CUMBERLAND

Captain O. Bauer, of Golconda, who lately sold his boat, the Charles B. Pearce, arrived this morning from Caruthersville, Mo. with his new boat the Little Clyde. This boat he received in trade for the Pearce and will run her in the towing trade, probably not entering into the packet trade again soon.

This brings on more talk of who will enter the Golconda and Paducah trade with a packet and there is much speculation relative to the matter. There are several persons in Golconda who are talking of entering a boat in that trade while Captain Bennett, owner of the Mart Stewart, formerly in that trade, is talking of entering the trade again.

The steamer Woolfolk will tomorrow leave the services of the I. C. road and will go into the lower Mississippi river to relieve the steamer Mary Michael which is towing in the Mississippi, in order that the latter go on the ways at Mound City for repairs.

The Woolfolk and Michael are owned by Captain Ed Woolfolk of the city, and the Woolfolk has been transferring for the I. C. road, the trains across from Brookport to Paducah on a barge since the transfer steamer Osborne was taken out of the service by the inspectors.

The Lizzie Archibald, the I. C. tug, will go into the towing service in the place of the Woolfolk.

Captain George Wilson, of the steamer Pavonia, which arrived last night from Perryville, Tenn., made a trip down the Cumberland river this week, coming all the way from Nashville to Paducah in less than five days. He had several persons with him and made the trip for the purposes of inspecting the river. The Ayer & Lord company has not had any boats on this river, since the low water stage set in and Captain Wilson is now prepared to take the company boats out into the Cumberland. No particular difficulties were experienced in making the trip, and Captain Wilson said he enjoyed it.

BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXIONS

Are spoiled by using any kind of preparation that fills the pores of the skin. The best way to secure a clear complexion, free from sallowness, pimples, blotches, etc., is to keep the liver in good order. An occasional dose of Iferbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver, and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Miss Trewalla is the daughter of the late William Trewalla, one of the pioneer settlers of this county, and is an attractive young lady. Mr. Holland is very popular and his many friends will wish him much happiness.

A LITTLE TOO LATE.
 The Democratic administration in Paducah cannot fool the people by locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen. The arrest of one gambler and one concern that is alleged to have permitted gambling does not bear the stamp of sincerity, because it came at such a late time, and after diverse gambling resorts had been allowed to run unmolested for a year or more. The gamblers have begun to leave Paducah, because they see that they are up against it. They did not leave before because they were secure in the protection being afforded them by the administration, and felt that they could do as they pleased.
 They see now that the inevitable result of misjudging public sentiment has been their undoing. They got so bold that they would stand around on corners and tell how much money they won the week before. The administration did not want to arrest them because it might lose a few votes.

But corruption in Paducah has been crushed by its own weight. Its fate exemplifies the saying that if you give a calf enough rope it will hang itself.
 The tin-horn gamblers are fleeing.
 There are a dozen or more who have committed a felony by running games.
 There are a dozen or more saloons that have laid themselves liable by suffering gaming to go on in rooms over or near them. The guilty are known to many people. Most of them stand around the corners and live a life of ease, and if city officials did their duty would have long ago been in the penitentiary for running games.
 They would not dare stay here if the laws were enforced against them.
 They have stayed here because they were given protection. With twelve or fifteen games running nearly every day and night for weeks and months, and although every man who runs a game commits a penitentiary offense, no effort was made to stop them. It is foolish for the city officials to now arrest one man for gaming and one firm for suffering it. It is discrimination, and fair-minded people do not approve of discrimination. If a few of these arrests had been made months ago, at least one foul crime would have been obviated, although Mr. Yeiser might have lost a few votes. It is fortunate the people found out in time. They have had their eyes opened. Mayor Yeiser is quoted in a local Democratic organ as piously saying he was "outraged that this crime should have occurred in a game of chance." Yes, and he will be worse outraged than that when he sees what will occur on election day. The people are not to be deceived by such statements. No sane man in Paducah believes that if Mayor Yeiser had wanted to put down gambling or Sabbath violation he couldn't or wouldn't have done it. No intelligent man in Paducah believes that if the police had received instructions to break up gambling they wouldn't have done it, with half a dozen or more dens within a block and a half of the city hall,
 and men going in and out every day and night. Even if they couldn't themselves have testified to any gambling, they could at least have had the suspicious characters summoned before court to answer questions and compelled them to tell what they knew about gambling, or swear a lie.

It is too late, Mr. Mayor, to profess ignorance of what has been going on,
 or what you might have learned was going on if you had wanted to know.
 If you have directly or by implication made the promises to certain elements that are credited to you, you and such elements might as well realize now that you will be unable to deliver the goods. No more connivance at lawlessness for political purposes goes in Paducah.

PREVENT PERJURY.

Alleged perjurers are sent to the penitentiary every time there is a term of circuit court in McCracken county, most of them for swearing falsely in some case in police court which amounts to practically nothing, and in which the general public has no interest,—for instance whether or not this that person had a brick, or whether Jim Johnson or Bob Williams or somebody else slapped this or that person.
 These kind of cases have little or no interest to, or effect on, society, yet some of the offenders are sent to the penitentiary. And it is a good thing, for every perjurer, no matter who he is or what case he was in, ought to go to the penitentiary.

In the approaching trial of a gambler who is alleged to have murdered a gambler, the authorities should see that any attempt to "swear him out" of it be promptly punished by the arrest of the guilty for perjury, as they have been in the habit of doing in less significant trials. A murder case is one of importance, and whether or not a murderer shall be turned loose to murder again is a question that affects the whole people, and is a matter in which the people deserve to be protected. It is therefore urged that as there has been some suspicion of a desire on the part of some of the other gamblers to swear the accused in this case out of the difficulty, the authorities act at once and jail every man who swears to a lie, if any should attempt such a thing. None may intend to do so, but it will be well to give them all to understand right now that nothing like that goes.

...FOR...

Public sentiment demands that every cold-blooded murder be avenged and murderers be placed where they can no longer menace society. As long as a desperado is loose on the community with a pistol in his pocket, no citizen's life is safe. It is not contem-ed that this was a murder; it may have been self defense, and every man is presumed to be innocent until he is proven guilty. The public will not tolerate, however, any effort on the part of tin horn gamblers to help a murderer cheat justice, and will not stand for any official's permitting such characters to perjure themselves. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

VOTING ONES' PRINCIPLES.

The present situation in Paducah is now well known to everybody. Scores of Democrats since the tragedy that occurred in a gambling den Sunday night with an open saloon underneath, have openly declared that they will vote against the present Democratic ticket. They will vote the Republican ticket, for in this way only can they count on certain victory over the present crowd. They cannot defeat them by voting for the independent ticket. They should make it certain and vote for the Republican ticket, whose platform is for a decent, economical and progressive administration, neither of which has been evident in the present Democratic administration.

In regard to the duty of those citizens who have for months been clam-oring for relief from the official indifference shown in Paducah, Rev.
 George Gowen, of the pastor of the Broadway Christian church, in Louisville, Sunday last scored not only recent, corrupt officials, but every man who votes to put incapable or corrupt officials in office as well. He said in part:

"The piety that votes for bad candidates is worthless. Long-faced church officers pray for the hastening of Christ's kingdom on Sunday and then go and vote for the coming of the devil's kingdom. We hold up our hands in holy horror at the atrocities permitted by the Sultan of Turkey, the tyranny of the Czar of Russia and the murderous doings of the anarchists, but we ourselves are sovereign and are responsible for the condition of anarchy in this city which tramples law in the dust, snags its fingers at authority and laughs at justice."

"It is the duty of Christian citizens to put out of office the men who allow open gambling houses and Sunday saloons, who are allied with houses of evil character and who paralyze the morality of the Commonwealth by their failure to enforce the law."

The same thing applies in Paducah.
 The people should rise and bury the blind, brazen crowd of city officials who are alleged to have made a deal with the lawless and vicious to get back into office, under a flood of ballots from which they will never dare emerge again.

It is very probable that the joint street committee of the general council will allow Contractor Terrell to substitute soft limestone for hard lime stone for curbing in paving the streets.
 The committee was authorized by the council last night to act, and it is presumed that if it permits the use of the soft stone it will provide for the proper deductions from the price paid Contractor Terrell. The paved streets have to be paid for by the people, and in order to protect the people the Sun desires to state that the difference in quality between the hard limestone
 the contract calls for, which Contractor Terrell is said to be unable to get,
 and the soft limestone, which it is suggested he be allowed to get, is considerable and the difference in cost will run about $150 to the block. If the committee does not make the proper deductions the people who have to pay for the streets will thus be charged about $150 a block for something they do not get, or nearly $1,- 000 on the whole job. It is probably the intention of the committee to make the proper deduction. It is hoped so, at least. The city has already given Mr. Terrell the job at about $1500 more than he contracted the first time to do it for, and afterwards presented him with a check for $500. This is enough to give any contractor, no matter how solid he is with the administration.

All good citizens who are sincere in their desire to give Paducah a better and more progressive government should remember that they can't do it by dividing the opposition vote between the independent and Republican tickets. The sure way is to vote the Republican ticket. Even if the better class of Democrats do not like the Republican ticket nothing could be worse than the present administration, and to defeat it should be the chief aim of every good citizen.

If you get out and ask the gamblers why they were allowed to run almost so you could see them, they will tell you, "because we are for Yeiser." All good citizens should remember this when they go to vote two weeks from today.

A prominent citizen of Paducah said today: "I am not for the Republican ticket but I'm going to vote it straight this time because it is the sure way to beat the present rotten administration
 both in Kentucky and Paducah."

The police officers seemed to be unusually busy today—getting out votes for the gang. The administration is frantic over its impending defeat.

The gambling allowed by the Democratic administration in Paducah is not even first class gambling.

WINS HER HEART.

FOOD THAT HELPS BABY AND THE FAMILY PLEASES MOTHER.

Show a mother how to feed her baby so that it will be healthy, rosy and plump and grow up strong and sturdy and the mother's gratitude is everlasting.

A mother says: "Five weeks ago I weaned baby but could not get her to take any kind of food until I tried Grape-Nuts which she relished from the first and on it she has plumped up and blossomed into a fat, chubby little girl."

"I feed Grape-Nuts to her regularly and use three packages a week for baby and my three-year-old boy alone, and I find that it regulates their bowels and keeps them nourished, strong and in good health all the time."

"Since feeding my children on Grape-Nuts I have used absolutely no medicine for either of them. Such food as this that does such wonders wins its way to a mother's heart. Please accept our thanks for the good your food has done in our family where we all eat it." Name given by Postum company, Battle Creek, Mich. Children will grow up strong and healthy or weak and puny according to the food given. Grape-Nuts is a complete and perfect food made on scientific principles and this is easily proved by trial.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT.

An unusually novel and attractive entertainment was the guessing contest given yesterday afternoon by the Mrs. R. B. Phillips and Mrs. Joseph L. Friedman, at their summer home, "The Pines." It was a "cat" contest, and the idea was prettily carried out in all details. The answers to all questions consisted of words beginning in cat, the tally cards contained cunning little cats in different attitudes, and the prize, which was won by Mrs. R. G. Terrell, was a toy cat filled with bonbons. In the luncheon ice cream was served from toy cats. Mrs. Friedman and Mrs. Phillips will entertain other friends Wednesday afternoon with a card party.

Two Concerns in Baltimore Go Under.

Loans to a New Railroad and a Subsequent Run Cause a Collapse.

NO OTHER FAILURES

Blaltimore, Oct. 20—Y. M. C. A.

a day of marked excitement in the financial and business circles of Baltimore.

The day began with the announcement of the failure of the Maryland Trust company and, except to only a initiated few, the news came like a bolt out of a clear sky.

Later there came another bolt, the suspension of the Union Trust company, and it was this latter event, which happened at a late hour in the day, that gave impetus to a varied number of rumors as to other financial institutions which might well have created a panic had they been given currency earlier in the day.

Allan McLane, third vice president of the Maryland Trust company, was appointed to take charge of the affairs of that company. Miles White, Jr., first vice president of the Union Trust company, was appointed receiver of that institution. Mr. McLane gave bond in the sum of $2,000,000, and Mr. White in the sum of $1,000,000.

The total liabilities of the two companies exceed $10,000,000.

The Maryland Trust company and the Union Trust company were not jointly interested in any enterprise, so that the suspension of one had no direct bearing on the other.

The suspension of the Maryland company is solely due to large loans advanced to the Vera Ornz and Pacific railroad. It is said that these loans aggregate in excess of $8,000,000.

The Vera Ornz and Pacific railroad runs across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, and establishes a new trans-continental route, connecting on one side with the Atlantic ocean and reaching the Pacific on the other side. On the Atlantic side the terminals are at Vera Ornz and on the Pacific side at Salina Ornz.

Alfred Bishop Mason of New York, as president of the company, directed its construction, and made several visits to Baltimore to confer with the officials of the trust company. The building of the road was slow work on account of the difficulties found in the construction of railroads through a tropical country. One year was consumed in surveying, and about three in the work of construction, which was completed early this year.

Receiver White of the Union company, states that the closing of the doors of that company was due to a run upon it by depositors in consequence of the announcement of the failure of the Maryland Trust company.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL

Willis Mount to be Given a Hearing Tomorrow

Coroner's Jury Charges Unprovoked
Murder Yesterday Afternoon.

GIST OF THE EVIDENCE

The examining trial of Willis Mount, in jail charged with the willful murder of Willis Nutty, the jockey, is set for tomorrow before Judge Sanders, in the police court, and will doubtless attract a large crowd.

The commonwealth will use every precaution to prevent perjury in the trial, and a representative stated today that he had fixed it so he thought it will be impossible for any of the witnesses to swear falsely.

The inquest held yesterday afternoon by Coroner Peal ended about 4 o'clock in a verdict of unjustifiable homicide as follows:

"Paducah, Ky., Oct. 19, 1903.

"We, the jury, find that the body now lying before us dead, is supposed to be that of Will Nutty, and that he came to his death from two pistol shots inflicted by the hands of Willis Mount.

"We further find that the said killing was done without provocation.

"Signed:

"J. W. HART.

"DENNIE MITCHELL.

"L. BARRY.

"EARL HAZEN.

"LEE WOLVERTON.

"J. C. MOSLEY."

All witnesses known to the coroner and officers were summoned to appear at the inquest, but several important witnesses who are acknowledged to have seen the shooting were missing and could not be secured. However the coroner had summoned sufficient evidence to complete the verdict and the following is the sum and substance of the testimony.

Dr. Adrian Hoyer, who was the first doctor to visit the room after the shooting, was first placed on the stand and testified that he arrived just as the man was gasping his last and that either one of the two shots fired would have proven fatal.

Will Bishop stated that he was over the Stag saloon in the room where the fatal shooting occurred at the time the argument leading to the shooting was started. He stated that he went down to get a drink and was not in the room, consequently, when the shots were fired. On the contrary he was outside and at the top of the stairs when the first shot was fired and at the bottom when the second was fired. He stated that he did not go back at all. After a careful examination Bishop remembered that Nutty had told Mount that he, Mount, "looked like 30 cents to him," and that when this was said he, Bishop, ducked out of the room.

Bob Wathen, who is a partner in the operation of the Stag saloon, was tending bar at the time of the shooting and said in about one minute after he heard the shots, Mount came hurriedly into the bar room and going around back of the bar asked for a drink of whiskey and placed his gun on the counter and told him, Wathen, to put it away, remarking "I have done it." Wathen did not remember that Mount had additionally said "mum's the word."

Ike Hollowell, a fireman who was in front of the engine house across the street from the saloon, when the shots were fired, stated that as soon as he heard them he ran across the street to investigate and on reaching the room found Dr. Hoyer there. While they were attending the victim Hollowell stated that John Whitnell came in and stated that he had been in the room and saw the whole shooting. Hollowell further stated that Whitnell had said that Mount had shot without cause.

Al Phelps, with whom Nutty had quarreled, was next introduced and said he was in the room when the fuss was started as Nutty and himself had been the principals until Mount took it up. Phelps stated that he had just come in the room and Mount was lying on a bed. After he had been in about a minute he and Nutty came to words over some trivial matter and Mount took it up. Phelps did not remember what either man said but as soon as he saw that trouble was brewing ran out. He stood long enough to see Mount produce a pistol but could not see where he had gotten it from.

He also stated that Nutty put his hand in his pocket when Mount came towards him.

There had been some difficulty in ascertaining the number of spectators in the room at the time of the shooting and although Phelps had been in a few minutes only, remembered that there was something like eight men present. Among those he remembered were Will Bishop, Sam Myles, John Whitnell, Willis Mount, Will Nutty and "Young" Atkinson. Of these only Phelps and Bishop could be found to testify before the coroner's jury.

Phelps stated that when Mount arose from the bed and made towards Nutty who "stood pat," that he made for the door and started down the steps, "not caring to witness any trouble" and that both shots were fired in quick succession. He returned later and saw Nutty lying on the floor with his face to the floor dead. He had not seen Mount since the shooting. After this witness was finished with, the jury retired and returned the verdict as in accordance with the above.

ALICE of OLD VINCENNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1900, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

"You are right, father. I drink to our object. Yes, I say, to our object." In fact, the drinking proceeded his speech, and his tongue already had a loop in it. The liquor stole through him, a mist of bewilderment and enchanting influence. The third cup broke his sentences into unintelligible fragments; the fourth made his under-jaw sag loosely; the fifth and sixth, taken in close succession, tumbled him limp on the floor, where he slept blissfully all night long, snugly covered with some of Father Heret's bed-clothes.

"Per casum oldiquum, et per Indirectum," muttered the priest when he had returned the bottle and cup to their hiding place. "The end justifies the means. Sleep well, my son. Ah, little Alice, little Alice, your old father will try, will try!"

He fumbled along the wall in the dark until he found the rapier, which he took down; then he went out and sat for some time motionless beside the door, while the clouds thickened overhead. It was late when he arose and glided away shadowlike toward the fort, over which the night hung black, chill and drearily silent. The moon was still some hours high, but smothered by the clouds; a fog slowly drifted from the river.

Meantime Hamilton and Helm had spent a part of the afternoon and evening, as usual, at cards. Helm broke off the game and went to his quarters rather early for him, leaving the governor alone and in a bad temper, because Farnsworth, when he had sent for him, could not be found. Three times his orderly returned in as many hours with the same report. The captain had not been seen or heard of. Naturally this sudden and complete disappearance, immediately after the repulse, suggested to Hamilton an unpleasant possibility. What if Farnsworth had deserted him?

Hamilton sat for some time after Helm's departure, thinking over what he now feared was a foolish mistake. Presently he buckled on Alice's rapier, which he had lately been wearing as his own, and went out into the main area of the stockade. A sentinel was tramping to and fro at the gate, where a hazy lantern shone. The night was breathless and silent. Hamilton approached the soldier on duty and asked him if he had seen Captain Farnsworth, and, receiving a negative reply, turned about puzzled and thoughtful to walk back and forth in the chill, foggy air.

Presently a faint yellow light attracted his attention. It shone through a porthole in an upper room of the blockhouse at the farther angle of the stockade. In fact, Alice was reading by a sputtering lamp a book Farnsworth had sent her, a volume of Ransard that he had picked up in Canada. Hamilton made his way in that direction, at first merely curious to know who was burning oil so late, but after a few paces he recognized where the light came from and instantly suspected that Captain Farnsworth was there. Indeed, he felt sure of it. Somehow he could not regard Alice as other than a sunny hidden, incapable of womanly virtue. His experience with the worst element of Canadian French life and his peculiar cast of mind and character colored his impression of her. He measured her by the women with whom the courtesans de bois and half breed trappers consorted in Detroit and at the posts eastward to Quebec.

Alice, unable to sleep, had sought forgetfulness in her bitter captivity in the old poet's charming lyrics. She sat on the floor, some blankets and furs drawn around her, the book on her lap, the stupidly dull lamp hanging beside her on a part of the swivel. Her hair lay loose over her neck and shoulders.

"Stop, sir; not another step!"
ders and shimmered around her face with a cloudlike effect, giving to the features in their repose a setting that intensified their sweetness and sadness. In a very low but distinct voice she was reading, with a slightly quivering intonation—Mignonne, allons voir si la rose,
Que ce matin avoit desclose
Sa robe de pourpre au soleil.

when Hamilton, after stealthily mounting the rough stairway which led to her door, peeped in through a space between the slabs and felt a stroke of disappointment, seeing at a glance that Farnsworth was not there. He gazed for some time, not without a sense of villainy, while she continued her sweetly monotonous reading. If his heart had been as hard as the iron swivel balls that lay beside Alice he must still have felt a thrill of something like tender sympathy. She now showed no trace of the vivacious sauciness which had heretofore always marked her features when she was in his presence. A dainty gentleness, touched with melancholy, gave to her face an appealing look all the more powerful on account of its unconscious simplicity of expression.

The man felt an impulse pure and noble, which would have borne him back down the ladder and away from the building had not a stronger one set boldly in the opposite direction. There was a short struggle with the seared remnant of his better nature, and then he tried to open the door, but it was locked.

Alice heard the slight noise and breaking off her reading turned to look. Hamilton made another effort to enter before he recollected that the wooden key, or notched lever, that controlled the cumbersome wooden lock hung on a peg beside the door. He felt for it along the wall, and soon laid his hand on it. Then again he peeped through to see Alice, who was now standing upright, near the awivel. She had thrown her hair back from her face and neck; the lamp's flickering light seemed suddenly to have magnified her stature and enhanced her beauty. Her look lay on the tumbled wraps at her feet, and in either hand she grasped a swivel shot.

Hamilton's combative disposition came to the aid of his baser passion when he saw once more a defiant flash from his prisoner's face. It was easy for him to be fascinated by opposition. Helm had profited by this trait as much as others had suffered by it, but in the case of Alice, Hamilton's mingled resentment and admiration were but a powerful irritant to the coarsest and most dangerous side of his nature.

After some fumbling and delay he fitted the key with a steady hand and moved the wooden bolt, creaking and jolting, from its slot. Then flinging the clumsy door wide open, he stepped in.

Alice started when she recognized the midnight intruder, and a second deeper look into his countenance made her brave heart recoil, while with a sinking sensation her breath almost stopped. It was but a momentary weakness, however, followed by vigorous reaction.

"What are you here for, sir?" she demanded. "What do you want?"
"I am neither a burglar nor a murderer, mademoiselle," he responded, lifting his hat and bowing, with a smile not in the least reassuring.

"You look like both. Stop where you are!"
"Not so loud, my dear Miss Roussillon. I am not deaf, and, besides, the garrison needs to sleep."

"Stop, sir; not another step!"
She poised herself, leaning slightly backward, and held the iron ball in her right hand ready to throw it at him.

He halted, still smiling villainously. "Mademoiselle, I assure you that your excitement is quite unnecessary. I am not here to harm you."

"You cannot harm me, you cowardly wretch!"
"Humph! Pride goes before a fall, wench," he retorted, taking a half step backward. Then a thought arose in his mind which added a new shade to the repellent darkness of his countenance.

"Miss Roussillon," he said in English and with a changed voice, which seemed to grow bolder, each word deliberately emphasized, "I have come to break some bad news to you."

"You would scarcely bring me good news, sir, and I am not curious to hear the bad."

He was silent for a little while, gazing at her with the sort of admiration from which a true woman draws away appalled. He saw how she loathed him, saw how impossible it was for him to get a line nearer to her by any turn of force or fortune. Brave, high headed, strong as a young leopard, pure and sweet as a rose, she stood before him fearless, even aggressive, showing him by every line of her face and form that she felt her infinite superiority and meant to maintain it. Her whole personal expression told him he was defeated, therefore he quickly seized upon a suggestion caught from a transaction with Long Hair, who had returned a few hours before from his pursuit of Beverly.

"It pains me, I assure you, Miss Roussillon, to tell you what will probably grieve you deeply," he presently added; "but I have not been unaware of your tender interest in Lieutenant Beverly, and when I had bad news from him I thought it my duty to inform you."

He paused, feeling with a devil's satisfaction the point of his statement go home to the girl's heart.

Theatrical Notes.

The "Railroad Jack" company arrived last night from Fulton in its special car and was taken to Murray this morning over the N. O. & St. L. road.

Manager English has booked Miss Helen Grantly for this season in "In the Palace of the King." Miss Grantly was seen here the past season in "Her Lord and Master."

"Duke," the South African lion tamer in "Railroad Jack" is one of the finest and largest, as well as one of the most ferocious animals in captivity, and was imported by Manager English, especially for this production. "Duke" will be drawn through the principal streets of Paducah at 2 o'clock Wednesday, the day of exhibition, weather permitting. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents.

No more characteristic and enchanting personage to read about could be found than Peg Woffington, and when her life has been revealed in a play so masterly written as Charles Reade's the acme of entertainment is reached. This play will be produced at the Kentucky Thursday night by Miss Hortense Nielsen and a capable company. The costuming is of the finest, all historically correct.

Mr. Hanford's performance of "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Kentucky on Saturday, matinee and night, Oct. 24 will be awaited with eager interest by Paducah people. He brings, it is rated, a splendid scenic equipment, surpassing in some respects even those elaborate productions with which he has been brilliantly identified in the past, and a cast which with the accomplished classic comedienne, Miss Marie Droun as leading lady promises a performance that will be complete in every detail.

Part of the performance of "Paul Revere" at the Kentucky Saturday afternoon, was not in the bill. It was in the second act when Richard Buhler, as "Paul Revere," is supposed to jump from the tower across the stage, and mounting a horse ride away. Instead the scaffold broke and precipitated Mr. Buhler into the tower. He was only slightly hurt but was unable to finish the act, although the audience did not know it. He never jumped across the stage or rode off his horse, and the curtain had to be rung down. He was able to go on at night, however, and the act went off without accident.

A large house enjoyed "At Cripple Creek" at the Kentucky theatre last night. The gallery and balcony were packed and there was a good crowd down stairs. The play is an unusually clever melodrama, and there is not a dull moment in it. It has both tragedy and humor, and its lines are well interpreted by a capable company. Franklin Searight as "Joe Mayfield" the hero, won the hearts of the gallery in the first act and never once lost it. The audience, especially in that part

AGE NO BAR.
EVERYBODY IN PADUCAH IS ELIGIBLE.

Old people stooped with suffering, Middle age, courageously fighting, Youth protesting impatiently; Children unable to explain; Baby crying, can't tell why. All in misery from their kidneys. Only a little backache first. Comes when you catch a cold. Or when you strain the back. Backache is the first step of kidney trouble.

Many complications follow. Urinary disorders, diabetes, Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure backache. Cure every form of kidney ill. Plenty of Paducah proof that this is so.

T. G. Elder, of 1801 Monroe street, carpenter at the Illinois Central railroad, says: "A friend of mine who had procured Doan's Kidney Pills at DuBois & Co's drug store and used them in his family recommended them so highly that I gave a little girl of ours, ten years of age, a course of the treatment. We had given her so much medicine for kidney weakness that she absolutely refused to take anything, but finally coaxing succeeded. Before she completed the use of two boxes we stopped giving her the remedy because she no longer required it."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

CLOTHING SATISFACTION

Perhaps you've never experienced it--lots of men tell us they never DID till they tried our hand-tailored clothes
There's a CERTAIN SATIS-FACTION that comes from wearing these clothes that you never obtained from ready-made clothing before. Men who formerly paid the merchant tailor DOUBLE THE PRICE now find the same satisfaction in these clothes. We recommend them to you because they are the highest standard of tailoring-- they are built on lines that make them HOLD THEIR SHAPE.
They retain their original appearance until they wear out.
Those very swagger Homespins, Cheviots in Stripes and Over-plaids and Worsteds in neat checks and figures are shown by us for fall in Hand tailored suits, and the prices are ranging:

Men's $15 to $25, Young

Men's $12.50 to $22.50

HAYES'

BEECHWOOD EMULSO-HYPO WITH IRON

Makes Fat, Strength, Blood, Bone and Muscle.

BOGOTA, TENN., March 15, 1903.

Gentlemen:

It affords me no little pleasure to testify to the wonderful properties of Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo
With Iron, as it saved my life when the physicians said I could not get well. After taking six or eight bottles I weighed 180 pounds. That has been ten years ago, and I am still living in fine health. Wishing you success in its sale, I am, yours truly,

FERD S. DAWSON.
